How to deal with H1N1 Influenza

Currently, those who seem to have H1N1influenza are able to consult a doctor at any medical facility. However, people are advised to kindly refrain from going to clinics and hospitals in a blind panic. Instead, when you encounter symptoms such as flu, sore throat, coughs, runny nose, etc., we ask that you please make a phone call to your family doctor or Consultation Service Center first. Please also make sure to wear a mask when you go see a doctor, and please be sure to follow the doctor's instructions.
