I have questions about taxes and pensions.

How do I put out my garbage?

What if there's a fire or an earthquake?

What if I get sick?

Five Rules for Bicycle Safety

Under the law, bicycles are considered vehicles just as cars are.

Among the rules cyclists must follow, these five are especially important:

- ① Ride on the road, on the left side; use the sidewalk only in exceptional circumstances, and always yield to pedestrians
- ② At intersections obey traffic lights and stop signs, and make sure it is safe before you go ahead
- ③ At night, turn on your headlight
- ④ Never ride while under the influence of alcohol
- ⑤ Always wear a helmet, it has been a make an effort since April 1st

There are many other traffic rules that bicycle riders have to follow.

Remember that your bicycle is a vehicle just like a car is; follow the traffic rules and use good road manners; and avoid being either a victim or a cause of an accident by always riding safely.
